

Over 2,370 residents and 1,300 businesses to be evicted, and over 40 historic buildings to be demolished for Gov. Hochul's/Empire State Development Corp's plan to "revitalize" 9 blocks around Penn Station and let Vornado Realty Trust billionaires build (and profit from) 10 supertall glass office towers.

What do I say? A few talking points you can use...

- New York City doesn't need 18 million square feet of new office space.
- There haven't been any clear answers about who is going to pay for this and how, and I don't want to get stuck with the bill. Why should I subsidize billionaire developers with my taxes?
- This plan doesn't address the real transit issues that make Penn Station so dysfunctional.
- You can fix Penn Station without demolishing over 40 historic buildings, some from the 1870s.
- You can fix Penn Station without evicting thousands of residents, including a vibrant music community on 30th St, and demolishing their affordable housing and studios.
- The amount of pollution this demolition and construction will create is an unforgivable attack on the health of all New Yorkers and the global environment.
